THE LAST DAY

Of the Foreign Missionary Meeting of Great Interest.

THE PROGRAMME FOR THE DAY

INCLUDING SOME PAPERS ON WORK DONE IN THE FAR EAST WHICH WERE LISTENED TO WITH GREAT INTEREST—OFFICERS WERE ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR AT THE EVENING SESSION—DETAILS OF THE DAY'S SESSION.

The second and closing day of the annual meeting of the Cincinnati branch of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society was even more successful from every view point than on the previous day. There was a large attendance at every session and the addresses were at all times intensely interesting. This was particularly true of the address of Mrs. Mary E. Badley, a returned missionary, at the evening session.

Considerable business was transacted yesterday. In fact, the delegates have been full of business from the start. Youngstown, Ohio, was chosen as the next place of meeting, and the old officers were elected with one exception. The gathering was a remarkable one in many ways and Wheeling, which entertained it nineteen years ago also, would be pleased to perform a similar function again.

The morning session began at 9 o'clock with the devotional service, which was in charge of the North Ohio conference division. The reports of the conference secretaries, Mrs. J. H. Creighton and Mrs. W. O. Seman for the Ohio Central and Central German, respectively, were very encouraging. The Central Ohio contained the best treasurer's report ever sent from this conference, it being $604 in excess of last year's.

A letter of greeting and love was read from Mrs. M. L. Pickenning, of Kansas, who nineteen years ago was conference secretary of Cincinnati conference when the branch met in Wheeling. She expressed great interest in the work and promised in 1905 to redeem the pledge made in Wheeling to dedicate her daughters to missionary work.

Miss Celia M. Frey, of Peking, gave an interesting talk upon the character of native Christians and the growth of the native church in China. It was confined to personal experiences, and told of a revival which starting in Tientsin had extended to Peking and surrounding villages. She had seen the Epworth League established in China, a Sunday school of 1,000 ragged native scholars, besides progress in the regular work. She noted the change and development in the characters of Chinese girls and religious influences, and cited the tribute of a Confucian student to the Bible, also the eagerness of the Chinese emperor to purchase a copy of the Scriptures.

A workers' council was next conducted by Mrs. J. R. Mills, of Geneva, Ohio. Her theme was "Difficulties we meet in our work." She was followed by Mrs. Frances Heermann, of West Virginia, who spoke on selfishness and the lack of information.

Mrs. Marsh gave advice how to obtain information, and Mrs. M. P. Adams dwelt on the topic, "Are our equipments for work as perfect as they might be."

Mrs. Woodruff, of Salem, O., spoke on "Auxiliaries," a subject which was continued by Mrs. Fisher, who referred to the use and abuse of music in auxiliary meetings.

Mrs. E. S. Emerson made a strong plea for more literature for the Woman's Foreign Mission Society, after which came the report of the nominating committee for several officers of the branch. The nominations, which terminated in the elections of those nominated was as follows:

President—Mrs. William B. Davis. Corresponding secretary—Mrs. B. F. Cowan.

Recording secretary—Mrs. C. W. Barnes. Treasurer, receiving—Mrs. John C. Kunz. Disbursing, Mrs. Charles Boyd. All the officers live in Cincinnati, or near the city, which is the headquarters of the branch.

Greetings were then received and replied to, from the Ohio Central and Foreign Missions Society of the First Presbyterian church, and the Northwest conference, both of which were then in session.

Benediction by Rev. Dr. Teeters was the closing proceeding, and adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The devotional service in charge of the Kentucky and West Virginia divisions opened the afternoon session, following which Mrs. S. E. Emerson was elected Cincinnati conference secretary vice Mrs. J. F. Lloyd, who resigned. Later, resolutions were adopted regretting Mrs. Lloyd's resignation and thanking her for her services.

Delegates to the general executive meeting of the national branch were elected to represent the Cincinnati branch, as follows:

Mrs. J. F. Rose, of West Virginia, and Mrs. W. C. Charon, of Tennessee; alternate, Mrs. A. J. Clarke, of Virginia. Mrs. Frank Stanton then sang "Oh, Happy Day that Fled My Choice." Her solo was rendered in a pleasing and finished style, and was greatly appreciated by the audience.

After this enjoyable number, came the address of Mrs. C. M. Buck, of Allgarh, India. She spoke of the work among the depressed classes of India, what was being done for them, and what they were doing for themselves. Incidentally, she mentioned the fact of there being in India in one city, a Christian community of 100,000 souls, 80,000 of which reflected the work of the past eight years. These were secured from the depressed class, and they contributed in a commendable manner to the work.

The committee on enrollment reported that there were attending the meeting, eighty-two delegates, seventy-five visitors and nine missionaries, a total of 166.

Mrs. T. H. Pearne sang with pleasing effect the last song written by Dr. Batton, "The Comforter Has Come."

Mrs. W. O. Seman, of Delaware, conducted a children's hour, referring to work among the little ones.

Mrs. M. M. Jaquet spoke on the requirements of leaders, and an interesting talk on "Light Bearers and Children's Bands" was given by Mrs. R. L. Thomas.

Mrs. John Mitchell, of Cleveland, gave good personal experiences in discussing her theme, "The Society and Myself." She feelingly referred to the strength God had given her when she had invoked His aid.

Miss Addie Palmer presented the meanings of the letters "Y. O. U." impressing upon her hearers the responsibility of self.

Mrs. Dr. F. Cowan, the recording secretary, read a letter just received from Miss Thoburn, bearing greetings from Miss Thoburn and Miss Hardie, active workers for the cause.

The invitation to meet at Youngstown next year was accepted. Dr. Dixon pronounced the benediction.

Shortly after the appropriations for

LAST SESSION.

The night session attracted a large audience. After the organ voluntary a short devotional service was conducted in charge of the East Ohio conference. Miss Zou Hastings and Fred B. Frazier, of the choir, sang a very pleasing selection, "Immanuel," after which the principal address of the evening was made by Mrs. Mary B. Badley, of Lucknow, India.

Mrs. Badley is well calculated to speak upon foreign missions. She has had extensive experience, having been interested in the work in India for years, added to which she is a fluent speaker, earnest, eloquent and descriptive. Her introductory remarks dwelt upon the doubt existing in the minds of some people as to the needs of mission work among the heathens. These people (doubting Thomases) refused to believe the tales of missionaries, saying that the missionaries exaggerated the state of affairs in benighted countries.

These people who doubt, said Mrs. Badley, need to go and see for themselves, for seeing is believing. There is no exaggeration in the tales of missionaries; they have seen and felt. The illustration of what might be termed exaggeration the speaker graphically depicted a scene in the blue waters of an Italian bay at sunset. Had she not witnessed the beautiful spectacle or had seen it on the canvas she would have refused to believe that hills could be so green, such soft blue skies or that the waters played in prismatic colors against the white beach.

Then, drifting to the mission fields, the speaker spoke of the degradation of women in the oriental countries. In the abuses Mohammedism and Buddhism have inflicted on the women. She interestingly referred to the bangles, nose rings, the small shoes, etc., worn by the women, while their husbands traveled about like lords. In China there are at present 40,000,000 women with their feet tortured so that they may wear small shoes. In other parts of Asia there are thousands of young girls behind walls, behind bars, in degradation, imprisonment, ignorance and suffering. They are locked up in harems, made legal brides while children, degraded, humiliated and kept down so that a woman ranks as an animal—without liberty and worse than a slave.

That these conditions prevail are the work of Mohammedism, Buddhism, Confucianism, etc. To remove these conditions the light of God must prevail. This can be done and is being done in a grand way by the women missionaries. "Oh," said Mrs. Badley, "it becomes American woman to say that our tales are exaggerated. It is becoming them to stand idle while there is a chance to uplift womanhood from the depth it has fallen."

"LIGHT OF ASIA."

Continuing, she scored Sir Edwin Arnold's "Light of Asia," in that part of the poem which pictures India as a paradise for women. It may have been a day that need their burdens lightened, but they will never be lightened until Christianity supplants heathenism and idolatry. There is no religion except that of Jesus Christ, which does not degrade women's condition. Bars and fetters are used to keep women in seclusion in the eastern countries because the men fear that they will not retain their virtue. But Christian teachings are all that is necessary in Christian countries. No better illustration of the superiority of the Christian religion can be given than that afforded by the contrast of the conditions of woman in Christian and pagan countries. Speaking of the progress of the work in India it was well exemplified in the statement that there is now a college in Lucknow, India, from which a woman can be graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Mrs. Badley, in drawing to a close, grew eloquent. She recounted many personal experiences with Hindoo women to show their need of aid. She has spent twenty years in India and she considered these the best years of her life, and would not have exchanged them for the same period of time in the highest position, social or otherwise, in this country. She paid a high tribute to real workers—people who do things, workers for good in all that the term implies—incidentally referring to her visit to Westminster Abbey upon her return from India. Upon her visit she noticed that Longfellow's bust was the only bust garlanded with flowers—tributes of enthusiastic Americans. She had a few flowers in her hand and while she considered Longfellow a great poet and was proud of him as an American, she placed her flowers upon the slab which bore the name of a man who was a zealous worker—David Livingstone. Throughout her remarks Mrs. Badley was given close attention and her address was indeed a treat.

Mr. Will B. Day then sang in his faultless manner a sweet solo entitled, "Through Clouds to Sunshine."

Rev. Dr. Sooy, pastor of the Fourth Street M. E. church, then made a neat and appropriate farewell address, which was in strict keeping with its title on the programme, "God Speed You." He complimented the society on the manner in which its two-day's deliberations had been conducted. Other bodies could well imitate its methods of getting down to business from the start. No time had been lost, the proceedings had been carried out as intended and no more profitable meeting had ever been held. There would linger in the memories of all who attended pleasant recollections of the meeting, and Dr. Sooy was sure Wheeling felt benefited by the contact. He hoped all would go away to their homes feeling glad that they had come and he wished all God-speed.

Resolutions were then read thanking Dr. Sooy, the trustees of the church, Dr. A. Moore and the King's Daughters of the church for courtesies; also the citizens of Wheeling for their hospitable treatment. Memories of the visit to Wheeling would always be held dear. The resolutions were signed by Mrs. T. P. Marsh and Mrs. J. W. Gladis, the committee.

After the benediction was pronounced by Rev. William Anderson, of Chapline Street M. E. church, the meeting came to a close, but not before there were many fond good-byes exchanged. The visitors will leave for their homes to-day.
